

Targeted senior rescue support

Restore control, resolve critical issues, stabilise delivery.

The principle

Bring in the seniority needed to restore control. Keep it only for as long as it continues to add value.

Red Parachute gives CFOs and Finance Directors experienced, independent support to diagnose, stabilise and steer difficult ERP and finance transformation work. Once control is restored, the involvement can reduce, end, or continue fractionally where it still adds value.

When it helps

- The programme is moving, but confidence in the plan or delivery is slipping.
- Finance, IT and the implementation partner are no longer aligned.
- Data migration, testing, cutover or integration risk is being surfaced too late.
- Ownership and decision-making are blurred across teams and vendors.
- You want an independent senior view before adding more cost, people or governance.

How I engage

- 1. Focused diagnostic — review the real programme position across scope, plan, governance, finance design, data, migration, integrations, UAT, readiness and vendor delivery.
- 2. Stabilisation — clarify priorities, decisions, ownership, sequencing and recovery actions.
- 3. Right-sized follow-through — step back once control is restored, or remain fractionally for executive oversight, challenge and delivery assurance.

What the CFO gets

- A clear view of what is actually under control
- The decisions and risks that need executive attention now
- A practical route back to credible delivery
- Senior oversight without defaulting to a long full-time engagement
